A Novel Service Retrieval Scheme

M. Bjelica, Z. Petrović

References:

Abstract:

This letter proposes a novel method for multimedia service retrieval. Similarity measure is used to create a user model and then to determine the correspondence between this model and the available services. Only the top-ranked services are then offered to the user, thus helping him/her easily find the service of interest.

Keywords:

Information retrieval, multimedia communication, multimedia systems, user modeling